

- a. My pitch for a Bizarro movie is that one day he just walks into the Daily Planet dressed as Clark Kent. It's implied he may be the clone that fell into a black hole but it's not confirmed and really doesn't matter. What does matter is a strange pasty faced person has walked into the Daily Planet and has just started writing articles in seemingly gibberish while claiming his name is Kent Clark. Clark Kent is of course concerned but since he doesn't make any threats and just sits there typing away he decides not to worry about it. Superman gets called because scientists have found a meteor heading towards earth. Superman flies up to destroy it only to find a Prometheon attached to the backside. Superman has to figure out how to deflect this asteroid while keeping the life form safe, and this whole situation distracts Superman from earth. This is when another Supervillain attacks the daily planet. Lois Lane broke a story the week before ruining his fraud/launders scheme. Surprisingly, Kent Clark takes this moment to dress up like Superman and actually save the day, but not without causing more damage than the needed to. When all the fighting is over, Lois Lane says "thank you, I am safe now" this sends Bizarro into a panic and he convinces himself to kidnap Lois and take her somewhere mysterious. Superman eventually returns to metropolis to be informed Lois Lane was kidnapped by the mysterious Bizarro. Superman begins the process of tracking down where Lois has been taken. He finds Bizarro in a Fortress of Solitude at the south pole, the opposite location of the north pole where the fortress of solitude is. Here he finds a Bizarro justice gang, including a Green Lantern, a Hawgirl, Mrs. T (world's dumbest man) and a Metamorpho which is a Bizarro Metamorpho which is just a rock with a smiley face. Bizaro Krypto (a cat named Notpry) Bizarro Supergirl (Whose sober and never gets drunk) and Bizarro robots. Lois says she has not been harmed at all. Superman demands she be let go and Bizarro promises to keep her in danger. Superman begins to fight Bizarro because of this, along with the other Bizarros. Lois Lane sits in her cage as the carnage ensues. She then starts to piece things together. Kent Clark? South Pole? Bizarro T is world's dumbest man? Lois shouts "Stop" and mid fight Superman and Bizarro pause. Lois says she wants to stay. This confuses Superman but Bizarro suddenly becomes saddened and asks why? Lois says Superman is dangerous and she shouldn't be near him or metropolis and she wants to stay. Bizarro accepts this and opens up her cage and she freely walks out. Superman is still confused. Before she leaves she yells out "I won't remember you, Hello" and Bizarro replies "Hello Lois, you are ugliest woman ever, Bizarro will forget you too" Superman then picks up Lois and flies her back to Metropolis. On the way Superman is completely perplexed by what just happened and Lois explains, don't you get it, Bizarro sees the world in reverse. Up is down, Hello is Goodbye, when I said I was safe in metropolis, he thought I was in danger. Superman is still having trouble making sense of it. Upon returning to the Daily Planet, Lois and Superman look at the gibberish article that Bizarro was writing. Perry White says its makes no sense and event he formatting is the opposite of what its supposed to be. Lois than begins to type the articles out in reverse. Its revealed to say Superman is the my Hero. The entire article is revealed to be about how Superman is the best hero ever and how Bizarro looks up to him.
